

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Reliable Home Products Corporation Debuts Robot to Handle Your Household Chores

Manufacturing is already under way on this multi-functional robot that could completely eliminate the need for housekeepers

LAS VEGAS, Nev., January 11, 2020 — The Reliable Home Products Corporation introduced a robot that replaces a maid in the home at the National Home Show.

Alex the Auto-maid (“Alex” for short) is capable of performing many functions, as demonstrated before more than 2,000 attendees of the show. Most notable is its ability to stack fragile dishes and glasses in a dishwasher and operate the machine - but it doesn’t stop there.

Laundry, among the most widely despised household chores, will soon become a thing of the past as Alex can place clothes in the washing machine, move them to the dryer when completed, and then neatly fold the clean items. It even irons clothes that require pressing!

These are just a few examples of its numerous functions. And to maintain the feel of a human housekeeper, the demonstration concluded with Alex turning off all lights when chores were complete and relaxing in a reclining chair.

At the demonstration, Reliable Home Products Corporation chairman and chief executive Clarence Smedlee stated, “Our team has been developing Alex the Auto-maid for over four years and we’re excited to bring to market this solution to save homeowners time from doing these chores at a cost that will save money over time as an alternative to consistently hiring a housekeeper. Plus, consumers will never have to worry about the unpredictability of allowing another person into their homes.”

Full-scale manufacturing of the robot is under way at the company's Raleigh, N.C. plant and will be available in consumer electronics retail outlets throughout the U.S. in the following year.

Alex will command a suggested retail price of $9,200 and the company plans an initial product of 8,000 robots.

Smedlee explained that the technology that powers and operates Alex was obtained in an exclusive license from Dell Computer Corporation, which retains the right to market the robot as a computer operator.

About Reliable Home Products Corporation

Reliable Home Products, based in Jacksonville, Fla., has been a leading manufacturer of automated products for the home since 1952. It employs 9,000 at eleven facilities in eight states. Reliable Home Products offers the "Reliable Way Guarantee" with every product purchased, including a 30-day money-back guarantee and a minimum 2-year warranty.

For a complete listing of Reliable Home Products's products and recent press releases, visit the World Wide Web at <http://www.rhpcorp.com>. Contact: Rachel Hetrick, Director of Communications at rherrick@rhpcorp.com tel: 323-232-3232